TRAN NGHIA

PROJECT MANAGER

I'm a Project Manager with a creative mindset and a strong technical foundation, passionate about crafting high-quality digital experiences. With over 9 years of experience in web/app and digital product development, I've led cross-functional teams, bridged communication between clients, designers, and developers, and delivered results that balance aesthetics, performance, and business goals. I see the role of a PM as a creative connector, turning ideas into well-crafted, optimized, and brand-aligned solutions. I'm also expanding my skills in automation and AI integration to deliver smarter and more scalable project outcomes.
